The Program Committee invites you to join us in beautiful Cancun for the 4th IPTA Congress on Pediatric Transplantation. The 4th Congress promises to be an exceptional educational experience. We have planned an outstanding line-up of plenary speakers addressing issues of common interest to the entire pediatric transplant community.

Moreover, because there have been more abstracts submitted than for any previous Congress, we have allotted expanded time for oral abstract presentations. In addition to plenary symposia, state-of-the-art presentations, oral abstract presentations and workshops, we have added several new features to the program for the 2007 meeting.

First, embedded within the Congress program for your enjoyment and education at lunch times, we have scheduled two debates on topical issues, where the audience will be expected to voice their opinions on the issues after the debaters have sparred.

For the first time, a plenary session on Ethical Issues in Pediatric Transplantation has been included in the program.

Finally, as in the past, generous breaks have been incorporated into the schedule to allow us to catch up with old acquaintances and make new friends.

We invite you to come learn with us to further our mission of helping all children whose lives can be saved and improved through transplantation.

Dick Thistlethwaite, MD, PhD
Program Chair

Welcome to the 4th Congress of the International Pediatric Transplant Association. We hope you will enjoy the hospitality of this wonderful paradise of the Mexican Caribbean, adorned with fantastic white sand beaches and bathed by colorful greenish, jaded and turquoise tropical waters.

Located in the eastern coast of the Yucatan Peninsula, at the magnificent shoreline of the so-called Mayan Riviera, Cancun is surrounded by nearby ancient cities and exuberant jungle, where numerous Mayan ruins comprise a major touristic attraction throughout the world.

While in Cancun, you may spend some time practicing aquatic sports, fishing, boating, sailing, or walking on the beach; relaxing and enjoying the sunshine, or dining out and partaking night life!

Commuting to the different touristic resorts located in the Mayan Riviera, as well as to the worldwide famous archeological sites nearby, is an easy task from Cancun.

The most modern facilities in the city make Cancun a great place to invite your family to accompany you; they will also enjoy what promises to be an unforgettable adventure in Mexico. The 4th Congress of IPTA combines a superb scientific program with the most attractive touristic resort.

We will do our best in order to make your stay in Cancun a most pleasant experience.

Ricardo Munoz, MD
Local Organizing Committee Chair

It is with great pleasure that I invite you to join IPTA and transplant professionals from around the world for the 4th Congress on Pediatric Transplantation.

While the Congress is an important component of the IPTA, the work of the association extends far beyond the meeting. Established in 1998, IPTA is the only association specifically devoted to the special needs of pediatric transplant patients. The society brings together the world's leaders in pediatric transplantation medicine in an effort to improve the care of children worldwide. Over the past several years, the society has grown substantially and developed into a dynamic educational resource.

The association is dedicated to promoting technical and scientific advances in pediatric transplantation and to advocating for the rights and well-being of all children who need, or who have undergone, transplantation. With approximately 500 members from more than 45 countries worldwide, our association is truly international.

Come get an in-depth look at the latest developments in the field, and learn more about the work of the IPTA. We are confident you will find the experience worthwhile. On behalf of the IPTA Council and Program Committee, I look forward to seeing you at the 4th Congress in Cancun!

Cordially,

Steven Webber, MD
President, International Pediatric Transplant Association
